Over 40 years of
INNOVATION

Portalp has been designing and developing automated opening systems for over 40 years. The company is based in the heart of the Alps (Isère-France) and is France's biggest manufacturer, leader in its market. Its commercial network now covers a number of countries both in Europe and throughout the world.

Portalp's success is based on two main elements:

- The unique know-how and permanent technological leadership built up over the years leading to Portalp's reputation for quality and reliability of its products.
- Constantly listening to the market and its customers' expectations thus offering an overall range of products and services adapted to each country's cultural and technical specificities.
